SUMMARY/OBJECTIVE

Web design, software development, and coding are all things I'm really passionate about. I have been working with react.js, javascript, and typescript for a couple of years now. I have built several complex apps in JavaScript and React, so I am confident in my ability to deliver excellent results. Additionally, I have been developing apps using Flutter for over a year now. As a result of my experience, I have developed products that can be used to develop cross-platform mobile apps more quickly. I am always looking for new ways to accomplish tasks and I love learning new things.
